THE QUBE

'The Qube' team building activity is one of our most popular events and, just like the TV programme, challenges teams and individuals to complete a series of nerve-jangling tasks against the clock!

Split into teams of around 6 people, your group will face approximately 10 different challenges during 'The Qube'. Each challenge or task begins with a short practice session where teams have the opportunity to get to grips with the task that faces them inside 'The Qube'. Once the practice session is over, it's time for the teams to make a 'live attempt inside 'The Qube'!

The giant, inflatable cube, complete with atmospheric lighting really adds to the pressure as guests enter, ready to take on their challenge. Once a team or individual enters 'The Qube', they will have three attempts to complete the challenge successfully. If they complete the task on the first attempt, their team will be awarded 20,000 points, reducing to a measly 5,000 points if it takes them all three attempts. Beware though, if, after three attempts your team has failed to complete the task, the points will be distributed amongst the other teams!

During 'The Qube', teams will face both team and individual challenges. For individual tasks, teams must select the person from their team that has shown the most skill during the practice session, to enter 'The Qube'. Team challenges, on the other hand, are completed by the entire team and will require everyone to enter 'The Qube' together.

The Cube team building activity is a superb indoor event that everyone will love. All of the guests will be active and engaged throughout the activity – there is no standing around or twiddling thumbs. The challenges and tasks have been designed to be suitable for everyone and are fun, varied, and challenging.

Please note that 'The Qube' requires a minimum ceiling height of 3.2 metres.
